
"Swami stands for practical science, not platform speeches. You need not do a lot, but at least practice one teaching. When you practice even one sincerely, you will be redeemed."
-- July 27, 2002

About:

This advanced workshop has been developed to address the training needs of SSE coordinators (regional, and center) in the USA. The attendees are current or previous coordinators and teachers who are interested in learning more about improving their own classes and the SSE program in their center.
All participants are expected to have completed the basic SSE teacher training course and are requested to bring their teacher manual. Workshop participants should have completed the online survey as well as had an opportunity to meet with the facilitator on the phone prior to this face-to-face session. Following up from this workshop each participant will work on an ongoing project coached by the workshop facilitator.

Gratitude:

We offer our deepest gratitude to Swami for giving us this opportunity to serve in His mission. We express our sincere appreciation to officers and devotees of the Atlanta Sai center, regional officers, center SSE coordinators, and teachers of Region 3. The active participation and support of all these people is responsible for making this workshop possible. We also wish to offer our gratitude to the national officers including Dr. Srinivas Raghavan (SSE) and Jack Feely (President) for their encouragement and support through this process.
